A Slight Difference of Opinion.—The News thinks it exceedingly "stupid" in Gov. Randall and the Sentinel to maintain that the law of Slavery is the "law of force." So far from agreeing with us, on this point, the News elaborately insists that property in man is just as right and lawful as property in horses, sheep, cattle, and other "chattels." We by no means dispute the right of the News to advocate this doctrine. Indeed, we think that it is in strict keeping with the platform of the "National Democracy," and an admirable comment upon the name and principles adopted by the party. Such men as Washington, Jefferson and Madison, among the founders of the Republic, looked upon Slavery as a grievous wrong, and earnestly desired its abolition. But they were "sectionalists," while Messrs. Buchanan, Black, Toombs, Iverson and Wise—the leaders of the Democratic party—are your only true "National" men.

Life's Happiest Period.—Kingsley gives his evidence on this disputed point.—He thus declares: "There is no pleasure that I have experienced like a child's midsummer holiday. The time, I mean, when two or three of us used to go away up the brook and take our dinners, and come home at night, tired, dirty, happy, scratched beyond recognition, with a great nosegay, three little trout, and one shoe; the other having been used for a boat till it had gone down with all hands out of soundings. How poor our Derby days, our Greenwich dinners, our evening parties, where there are plenty of nice girls, after that! Depend upon it, a man never experiences such pleasure or grief after fourteen as he does before, unless in some cases in his first love-making, when the sensation is new to him."

New York and Erie Railroad—Earnings for Six Years.—The annual statement of the New York and Erie Railroad has just been published, which includes the earnings of the road for the past, six years, with the expenditures, as follows:

	Earnings.	Expenses.	Expenses per cent.
1854	$5,[illegible]	$3,007,516	54.6
1855	5,348,593	2,861,575	52.1
1856	6,453,990	3,201,906	49.6
1857	5,739,648	4,051,631	70.6
1858	5,451,615	3,791,454	69.5
1859	4,482,149	3,045,163	67.0

Correction.—In our telegraphic report from Madison, a few days since, it was stated that the Bank of Green Bay had made application to the Legislature for permission to reduce its capital and change its place of business. It is the Green Bay Bank, not the Bank of Green Bay, that seeks this change. The latter institution is content with its present status.

Broke Jail.—John Summers, of the town of Forest, Richland county, who was confined in the jail on a charge of rape, made his escape on Sunday night last, 15th. It is supposed some person from the outside supplied him an auger and crowbar. The Richland County Observer says the jail is a poor affair.

The Dodge County Musical Convention will hold their fourth semi-annual Convention at Fox Lake, commencing on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, and continuing four days. Several prizes are offered.

Fire at Berlin.—Through Mr. Holland we learn that a fire occurred at Berlin City yesterday morning, destroying one block of buildings. As yet we have received no particulars.

Accident.—Alex Kerhoff, formerly of Mineral Point, and now of Dubuque, was run over by an engine at the latter place recently and so severely injured that his recovery is doubtful.

Rail Road Project.—There is now a project to extend the Milwaukee, Watertown, and Baraboo Valley Rail Road to or near Du Buque, instead of running it up the Baraboo. This would bring it from Madison to Calamine or Mineral Point "up the Bonner Branch, and across the ridge south of Belmont, through or near Platteville, and thence down the Little Platte," if the people along that course would cheerfully render the material aid. The importance of a rail road through this section of the country has long been felt, and it would do much towards developing the resources of the country. The amount of money spent in wagoning the produce of all this section of the country to market on the Milwaukee and Mississippi Rail Road, and to the Illinois Central at Galena, is enormous, and if what has been spent in that way during the last two or three years had been applied to building a road over the route mentioned, the road would have been completed to-day.—Grant Co. Witness.

Supreme Court.—Thursday, Jan. 17.—Fourth Circuit, No. 1.—Ætna Ins. Co. vs. John L. Harvey. Argued by Abbott, Gregory & Pinney for pl'ff in error, and submitted by printed brief for def't in error by Rockwell and Converse.

Baxter vs. the State. Motion for a rehearing filed for complainant.

No. 2.—Tallman vs. Ruggles et al. Argument commenced by Sleeper & Norton for appellant, and by Messrs. Gillett & Conklin for respondent and not completed.

Wednesday, Jan. 18.

Argument in Tallman vs. Ruggles completed.

Weather at Lake Superior.—The Lake Superior Miner, from Ontonagon, says:

The amount of ice now in the lake exceeds the usual quantity at this season—compared with the past two winters, the excess is probably one hundred per cent. Several days during the past month the lake has been entirely concealed from view, but when a fair south wind prevails for a day or two, it is again cleared within half a mile of the shore. The ice-bergs are much more formidable than at any time last winter, and the number of days the mercury has sunk below zero, is greater than during the whole of last winter.

There was a farmer in town to-day with a wolf which he had killed in the town of Windsor, in this County, about two weeks since. He took it to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and got $4 bounty for its scalp, and afterwards went to McGie's hat, cap and fur depot to trade for its skin.—Madison Patriot.

The bull-head trade grew more active during the middle of last week. The lowest estimate that we have yet heard, was that 2,500 tons of these fish, with an occasional pickerel, had been taken out of the streams entering into Lake Horicon during the ten days ending on Saturday last.—Waupun Times.

THE CITY.

Another meeting was held last evening in Kilbourn's New Hall, in relation to the Market House and City Hall project. There were forty-three persons present, who listened with commendable patience to the reading of a prolix report, setting forth the enormity, extravagance and danger of the scheme. The Committee that drafted the report was composed of Messrs. Rosebeck, Grant and Balatka.

Mr. Grant made a lengthy speech, in which he demonstrated that the Market House was unsafe and unsound, and would be still more so when the proposed alterations were made. He pronounced the whole matter a speculative move, and triumphantly called upon any one to refute him.

As there was no prospect of anything very special being done, we left at an early hour. We believe, now that the injunction is dissolved and a settlement has been made with Morgan L. Martin, that the work will go on, notwithstanding the fears of certain gentlemen.

A Ghost Story.—Barney O'Bralagan has read Owen's "Footfalls," and consequently believes in ghosts. The following statement may be relied on, as Barney related the circumstances to us with his own lips:

"I was sitting," says he, "in my little front room where I board. It was near midnight, and I was deeply interested in the new book. I heard a noise. Everybody in the house had retired, and I wondered what it could be. I looked under the table and felt my hair rise at the sudden contemplation of my boot-jack. I laughed, and my laugh frightened me. I got up and locked the door, and listened. I heard a step on the staircase. I reseated myself and waited trembling. The lamp burned dim, and the room grew cold, and suddenly I heard the Cathedral clock striking the midnight hour. Then there came a stealthy footstep to my door. I could hear the lock spring, and saw the door slowly open. I was breathless. A cold tremor ran down my back-bone. It was terrible. There stood before me a tall figure, misty, indistinct, with flashing eyes that seemed to burn into my brain. It was a spirit. I felt it. It approached. I shrunk within myself, as though the essence of death were nigh. It came, slowly, slowly, without any effort at motion, (and I noticed it had on raw-hide boots,) and before I was aware of it, it seized me by the collar, and kicked me down stairs, through the hall, into the street!"

This is the whole of Barney's story. It throws a new light on ghosts. We are bound to believe it, as Barney is good authority, and showed us two or three black and blue spots just below the two brass buttons on his coat. He also asserts that just before the spirit vanished it hit him a swat on the side of the head that gave him a vivid insight into several weeks to come

We leave this difficult subject for the scientific to unravel.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Milwaukee and Northern Illinois Railroad Company, held in this city on Wednesday the 18th inst., the following were the newly elected Directors:

Wm. P. Young, Edward P. Allis,
S. S. Conover, Edward Roddis,
Philo Belden, Maurice S. Ayres,
Peter Forbes, Amos T. Brown,
Chas. G. Cotting.

The new Board of Directors elected the following officers:

Wm. P. Young, President.
E. P. Allis, Vice President.
E. Roddis, Treasuer,
H. W. George, Secretary.
S. S. Conover, Philo Belden, E. Roddis, Executive Committee.

President and Vice President ex-officio members of same.

From Pike's Peak.—Lieut. Gov. Beall, of this State, who has been at Pike's Peak for some months past, was in our city yesterday, on his way to Washington. Mr. Beall assured us that the stories of abundant deposits of gold on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains were in no wise exaggerated; and expressed the opinion that neither California, nor Australia could compete, in this respect, with the region of country within fifty miles of Denver City. Lieut. Gov. Beall goes to Washington, as a delegate from the Pike's Peakers, to ask for some legislation for their benefit.

The Wrong Man.—The Sheriff came in from Eagle, yesterday, in search of a man charged with bigamy, and pounced on a gentleman in one of our most frequented streets as the man. Denial, protestations of ignorance, were of no avail; and it was not until the gentleman denuded himslf of part of his clothing, in a convenient store, and satisfied the officer that he was minus certain marks on his arms, which the real offender was known to possess, that he was liberated. The gentleman is a respectable merchant, doing business in this city.

Injunction Dissolved.—Judge McArthur, of the Circuit Court, has dissolved the injunction restraining the contractors on the Market House from proceeding with their work of converting it into a City Hall. The opinion of the Judge was an able one, and covered all the points in the controversy.—We trust that the improvement will now be speedily urged to the desired consummation.

The Water Works Project.—Why is it that Mr. Brewster's offer to build Water Works for this city is not yet accepted by the Common Council? We think it the best proposition yet made, and one that the Council ought to close with promptly. The opening of Spring should see the work under headway.

This conundrum is not new, but we have not seen it before in so good form as it is here given:

Why was Pharaoh's daughter and her waiting maids like the Wall street brokers in the panic of 1857?

Because they drew a great prophet from the rushes on the banks!

Fire.—Yesterday noon a fire broke out in a small tenement on Jackson, near Division street, owned by Levi J. Merrick, and occupied by a Mrs. Ray. The fire was occasioned by a defective stove pipe, which ran thro' the roof. The flames were extinguished with a trifling loss.

Family Groceries.—Mr. J. W. Ledyard, at his store on East Water Street, has for sale some very superior home cured hams. Mr. Ledyard is also sole agent for Mrs. Hascall's preserved fruits, pickles and tomatoes. They are very carefully put up in sealed cans, and may be kept for months.

Concert To-Night.—Mr. Weinberg, the best Violinist in the North West, gives a Concert at Albany Hall, this Friday evening. He will be assisted by the best musical talent in our city, and the programme is rich in promise. Mr. Weinberg deserves a full house, and we hope will have it.

Fresh Fish.—At the Albany "Restaurant" of Mr. H. E. Dickinson, epicures can find some fresh cod, smelts, sea-bass, &c., all in excellent order, having come this day by Express.

Education.

"'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

Every one acknowledges Pope is right in his statement, and every one admits that education and cultivation are necessary, for what's a person without education of some kind? Without his heart, hand or mind being educated to some extent, what is he? He is scarcely one step above the animal; for all the physical powers possessed by man, are also possessed by animals; but the two great elevating properties, given by the bounty of heaven to man, and to man alone, to distinguish him from the rest of created and living things, are the soul and mind.—The one invisible and everlasting, the other lighting up the whole exterior if the mysterious spark be once kindled and allowed to burn, but if it never receive the fuel intended for it, if it is allowed to famish and starve and waste away, if the heart and mind never are educated, then does the man remain but the animal; for all that distinguish him from the animal, lies dormant, mouldering and decaying.

To be sure the precious spark which the Creator originally gave to his keeping is there yet, but it has never received one breath of air or one gentle breeze to fan it into a flame; but lies smothering and choked, and surrounded by ashes, until one can scarcely recognize in the dim, diminutive speck which barely shows itself through its covering, the once brilliant jewel, which needed but the polishing hand and proper care, to make it shine forth so that its dark casket would seem almost transparent. But we cannot say it is possible for a person to exist without being educated in some manner and to some extent, for it is only in very infancy, when the mind has just flown from the hand of its Maker, and placed in its clayey prison, that it has an existence without education or cultivation, for then it begins, and is constantly receiving impressions and being moulded and shaped by every outward circumstance, by every thought and act, and it never becomes so strong but that outward circumstances exert some influence upon it.

But few things are of much value in their primitive original state; but need cultivation, labor and care to bring their good qualities to maturity, and crush and exterminate the evil which is ever ready to swallow up the good. Take the tiny seed of a flower, for instance, place it in sandy, unhealthy soil, deprive it of rain and sunshine, and allow the weeds to grow up around it as they will, and note the plant that comes from that seed.—If it spring up at all, it is but a pale, sickly, slender, diminutive thing, looking as if it would sink into the earth at the slightest indication of an approaching storm; and fading and withering away before half its days are over. But take another seed of the same kind, place it in rich, fertile soil, give it sunshine and rain, and all the care it requires, and if the original seed be good, the flower that proceeds from it is a strong, healthy one, of beautiful, symmetrical proportions, of a fresh and lovely appearance, delighting the beholder with its beauty and fragrance. Just so with the mind—its improvement and advancement depend principally upon the outward surrounding influences; and if these influences be good from the beginning, and be rightly improved, then we see the perfect man. But education does not consist in the improvement of the intellectual faculties alone, but the improvement of all the good qualities which man possesses, and curbing and destroying the evil ones. First of all in the grand scheme of education comes the heart for its share, the most needed, but always most neglected. Educate the intellect only, and you develope but a serpent to poison with his venom. A person with his intellect only cultivated reminds one of a beautifully decorated and highly-finished ship at sea, delighting the eye with its gracefulness, but with no compass, no rudder, no captain; to be tossed about by every fickle wind, and be dashed at last upon the inevitable rocks.—But with man, if he thoroughly educate his heart first, then all else that follows will receive a softer, more beautiful glow from it; the beauty of all other accomplishments will be enhanced by it; it will be to talent as the North Star to the mariner, guiding surely and safely. When man is thus educated, his heart, feelings and passions receiving the greater share, then, and not until then, will he be fitted to accomplish the end for which he was created. MAUD BROWN.

Suicide.—August Knorr, a German, committed suicide on Wednesday evening, in a drug store on the corner of Sherman and Third streets. By the contents of a note which he left behind him, it was apparent that he had meditated the act for some time, and was undoubtedly driven to it by misfortune. An inquest will be held this morning.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS, FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

New York Matters.

New York, Jan. 19—3 P. M.

The Convention of Manufacturers, held at Meriden, yesterday resulted in a split, and the organization of two conventions of about equal size, one having a Republican and the other a Democratic complexion. Each party adopted a series of resolutions of a Union and conservative character. Mr. Calhoun, of Bridgeport, presided over the bolters' Convention.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says that Mr. Arny, of Kansas, was examined yesterday by the Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee. The greater part of his testimony related to Kansas affairs during the border troubles and Brown's movements in 1858. Mr. Arny testified that Brown proposed to locate somewhere, and run slaves from the South, so as to make that kind of property insecure. Mr. A. also testifies that he opposed their mode of interference with slavery. Brown said that he disliked the do-nothing policy of the Abolitionists East, and said they would never effect anything by their milk and water course. As to the Republicans, Brown thought they were of no account, as they were opposed to carrying the war into Africa.

Arrival of the Anglo Saxon.

Portland, Jan. 19—3 P. M.

The Anglo Saxon, from Liverpool 4th, via Queenstown, arrived here at 10.45 a. m. today. Her mails will be sent to Boston this afternoon, and will be due at New York on Friday at 5 p. m.

Later news from India says that 2,000 rebels and their leaders had been made prisoners in Oude.

Louisiana Legislature—Disunionism.

New Orleans, Jan. 19—3 P. M.

In the Legislature yesterday the Governor's message was read. It recommends that Louisiana should be prepared to meet her sister States of the South in convention, in case of certain contingencies. He favors retaliation upon the hostility of the North, by licensing and inflicting discrimination against Northern goods, amounting to an absolute prohibition.

The House passed a joint resolution declaring the Harper's Ferry affair an attack on the rights and privileges of the South, and alleging the hostility of the North and election of a Republican President, cause for a dissolution of the Union.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Wisconsin Legislature.

Madison, Jan. 19—3 P. M.

The Assembly was called to order at ten o'clock A. M., and opened by prayer by the Chaplain.

Petitions, &c.—In relation to the subject of insurance companies; from D. R. Clement for a State road in Portage City; a petition from the sixteen sections in Shawano Co. for relief; a communication from Rev. Mr. Morris (Catholic) of Madison, in reply to an invitation from the Speaker to officiate as one of the Chaplains of the Legislature, declining it. His reasons were: first, that he considered prayers before legislative bodies unconstitutional, and that his self-respect as a gentleman, would not permit him to officiate.

In the House a debate sprung up. Mr. Elmore thought the communication insulting, and objected to having it go on the journal. Mr. Horn declared it sound, and moved that 500 copies of it be printed for the use of the House. It was a long time since he had heard so sensible a document; Mr. Fisher moved they be printed in the Latin language; Mr. Horn added for the use of the German infidels in the Republican party.—The proposition to print was lost.

Resolutions Introduced—For a select committee of five, to enquire what means are necessary to insure the completion of the North Eastern Land Grant Road; and a resolution was adopted calling on the Government in relation to swamp and overflowed lands: Mr. Elmore gave notice that he should introduce a bill to-morrow prohibiting the State Horticultural Society from getting printing done.

A debate ensued on the newspaper question, but no definite action was taken.

The Assembly then went into committee on the whole, after which the committee rose and reported.

Bills Passed—To amend the laws in relation to public printing and distribution of public documents; to reduce the capital of the Bank of Oshkosh; to enable foreign administrators to sue in this State; to amend the charter of Merchant's Insurance Co; to charter the Hanover St. Congregational Society, to authorize a State road in Dunn Co., also one in Douglas Co.

Senate—Mr. Hanchett introduced a resolution in favor of abolishing the Grand Jury system, which lies over.

Several committees made reports of a local nature.

A communication from the Rev. Dr. Norris of similar import to the one read in the House, was laid before the Senate.

Bills Passed—To legalize the orgnization of School District No. 2 in the towns of Tomah and Adrian, in Monroe Co.; to amend chap. 133 R. S.; to provide for the holding of special terms of Circuit Court in the counties of Washington and Ozaukee; to amend chap. 22 of laws of 1859 relating to sale of land for unpaid taxes.

Resolutions to give each member $10 worth of newspapers for the Session elicited a warm debate. It was finally passed, and the Senate adjourned until Friday, 10 o'clock A. M.

Obituary.

Madison, Ind., Jan. 19—9 P. M.

Rev. John Finley Crowe, founder of Hanover College, died Tuesday, at Hanover, Ind., of ossification of the heart, aged 73.

Utica, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

Hon. Chas. A. Mann, President of the Oneida Bank, died suddenly in this city today, of apoplexy. His age was 57 years.

Hon. Clark B. Cochrane Insane.

Albany, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

Hon. Clark B. Cochrane's severe illness has unhappily terminated in insanity. He was taken yesterday to the Utica Asylum, where it is hoped skillful treatment may restore his reason. The exciting agitation in Congress is believed to have greatly contributed to the much deplored result.

Lawrence, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

Nothing new was elicited in the examination of witnesses to-day before the Coroner's jury.

Additional by the Anglo Saxon.

Portland, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

The London Times says that in the event of no Congress being held all that will then remain will be to recognize the Central Italian States, which have been formed out of Romagna and the Duchies, either as an independent Kingdoms or as part of the Sardinian monarchy; to take our stand on accomplished facts and leave the Pope and his supporters to their remedy.

The Daily News remarks that the projected Congress is indefinitely postponed, and that no friend of the cause of freedom in Italy need regret the temporary difficulty in which diplomacy finds itself, as every month gained confirms the liberty of the Italian States and justifies the revolution before the world. The Paris correspondent, writing on the first day of January, says it was then reported in Paris that the Congress would be summoned at the end of January, but the exact day was not known.

A despatch dated Rome, 3d inst., says that the Duke De Grammont had positively stated to the Holy See that the pamphlet "The Pope and Congress" does not contain the programme of France. The explanation produced an excellent effect on the Pope, and it was hoped that he would not object to be represented in the congress.

Prince Gortschakoff left St. Petersburgh on the 27th for Paris.

The latest accounts from the continent do not confirm the statement that the congress was indefinitely postponed, but, on the contrary, it was reported in Paris that the congress would meet on the 12th of February.

Great Britain.—The Constitutional Magazine publishes a reform bill which was supposed to have been concocted under the auspices of the conservative party, but, according to the London Herald, the bill in question has been published entirely without knowledge or sanction of the leaders of the conservative party.

A scheme for the conversion of the public debt of Canada into one consolidated 5 per cent. stock, irredeemable for 25 years, has been officially promulgated in London, and attracted considerable attention. The liabilities of the colony are £11,500,000 sterling.

The Roman Catholics held a meeting on the 3d inst., for the purpose of adopting an address to the Pope, expressive of their sympathy. From 1,500 to 2,000 were present, including a large number of women. Great unanimity and enthusiasm were evinced. One of the resolutions adopted was to the following effect:—That although, as Catholics, we firmly believe that the spiritual authority of the Pope is not to be of necessity dependant on his temporal power, we yet consider that a diminution of such temporal power would be detrimental and injurious to the best interests of religion.

France.—According to custom the Emperor on New Years received the members of the Diplomatic Corps in Lasalle du Crone. The reception took place at 1 P. M., and is thus reported in the Moniteur. The Papal Nuncio addressed the Emperor as follows: Sire, on the first of the year which assembles the diplomatic body around your Majesty, I have the honor, sire, to offer to you its respectful homage.

The Emperor replied as follows: I thank the diplomatic body for the good wishes it has expressed on the event of the new year, and I am especially happy at this time to have an opportunity of reminding its representatives that since my accession to power, I have always professed a profound respect for recognized rights. Be then assured that the constant aim of my efforts will be to re-establish everywhere confidence and peace.

His Majesty passed before the diplomatic circle and spoke a few words to each ambassador, making inquiries especially respecting the health of their sovereigns. The reception lasted twenty-five minutes. The Emperor's speech was generally regarded as satisfactory, but attracted little attention.

It was stated, in official quarters, that the budget of the ministry of war for 1860, would be prepared for a strictly peace establishment, the army being reduced to less than 400,000 men.

Commercial and financial affairs in France were in a less favorable condition, owing to the uncertainty which had arisen relative to Congress. Paris breadstuffs dull, but prices of wheat and flour were sustained. Brandies were difficult of sale. The Parise Bourse had been depressed at a further decline. The rentes had receded to 68f45c, but on the 3d there was more firmness—closing prices were 68f25c.

Spain and Morocco.—Madrid, Dec. 30—Yesterday a Spanish squadron burnt and blew up a fort at the mouth of the river.—The Fetuan tribes, not wishing to continue the war, have withdrawn to their mountains.

Madrid, 1st.—On Friday evening the Moors vigorously attacked our encampment, but were repulsed with great loss. The Spaniards showed great bravery. Their loss, however, is not considerable. The rumor of peace having been concluded is altogether false.

After a glorious fight the Spanish army, commanded by Gen. Prim, defeated the Moors on the whole line, and advanced as far as Gaspilligos. The Hussars executed several heroic charges, and captured a flag: The Moors were 40,000 strong, and lost at least 1,500.

The Spanish loss was from 400 to 600.—The greatest enthusiasm prevails in the army.

Three vessels, sailing under the English flag, carrying contraband goods, had been brought from Ceuta to Algesiras.

Italy.—Gen. Goyon, commander of the French forces at Rome, had been ordered by telegraph to proceed to Paris. This, in some quarters, was interpreted into a menace to the Papal Government.

A despatch from Modena says, in consequence of a demand made by the family of the boy Mortara, who had given proof that the kidnapping of the child was ordered by the Reverend Father and Inquisitor, and Zilette, the latter, had been arrested.

Gaibaldi had been honored with an enthusiastic ovation at Milan, although he endeavored to pass through that city en route for Turin quietly and unobserved.

Garribaldi's mission to Turin is said to have reference to his probable appointment, as commander-in-chief of all the national guards of the kingdom.

A general amnesty in Naples had been deferred.

But fifty individual pardons had been granted.

Cardinal Antonelli had announced his intention to leave Rome on the 12th for Paris.

Austria.—Vienna letters say a very unfriendly feeling towards the French prevailed in that Capital.

The addresses to the Pope which had been lying in the Vienna churches, were not so numerously signed as was expected.

The Emperor had announced his intention to dissolve 24 regiments and effect such other reductions as would place the army on a peace footing.

The statement that the aristocratic officials in Austria had placed their pay at the service of the Emperor. It was put forward as a hint for them to do so, but they did not respond.

Latest via Queenstown.—Paris, Thursday.—The Emperor has appointed Mr Thordeval Minister for Foreign Affairs in place of Count Walewski, whose resignation has been accepted. Mr. Barouche is entrusted ad interim with Ministry of French Affairs until the arrival of Mr. Thorneval.

Congressional Proceedings.

Washington, Jan. 19—3 P. M.

House.—Mr. Hindman made a speech, accusing the Republicans of the responsibility of the non-organization of the House. A debate ensued between him and Gooch, of Mass., without eliciting any points of interest Mr Hindman said that John Brown was a tool of the Republicans, and no Republican could skulk the responsibility.

After some proceedings of no interest, Mr. Colfax brought out the fact, which was acknowledged by several Southern Democrats, that they have signed a paper pledging themselves to resist by all parliamentary strategem a vote on the plurality rule.

Adjourned.

Senate.—Mr. Douglas' resolution instructing the Judiciary to report a bill for the better suppression of invasion, &c., was specially assigned for 1:30 P. M., Monday next.

A debate of some length took place as to whether the Senate had a right to transact any business until the House organized.

The Senate finally by a vote of 45 to 7 overruling a point of order to that effect and referring a private bill on which the debate had sprung up to the Committee on Private Land Claims.

5,500 extra copies of the Treasurer's report were ordered to be printed.

Mr. King offered a resolution appointing a committee to investigate whether a portion of the public printing appropriation had been applied to the support of newspapers, especially the Constitution, Pennsylvanian and the Argus, and as to the contract said to have been made by Bowman, by which he was to receive $20,000 per year. Also whether any member of the Government was privy to it. Also what reduction can be made in the price of the public printing. The resolution lies over.

Adjourned till Monday.

Washington Matters.

Washington, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

A private despatch, received to-day, states that the Democratic State Covention at Nashville, Tenn., nominated Senator Johnson, of that State, for President, subject to the decision of the National Convention.

One of the features of the McLane treaty provides for the admission of certain goods into that country, free of duty, at such rates as the Congress of the U. S may designate.

Among these are coal, iron, cotton goods, all kinds of machinery, products of the dairy and farm, including all kinds of grain and naval stores; all kinds of vessels for navigation, flour of every description, and many other articles connected with U. S. manufactures.

The agent of the viceroy of Egypt has recently concluded a contract for a large supply of Sharp's rifles.

Later From Pike's Peak and Utah.

Leavenworth, Jan. 19—9 P. M.

The Pike's Peak Express with Denver City dates to the 12th, and Salt Lake to the 30th of December has arrived. The miners were still at work in the neighborhood of Mountain City with profitable returns.

The question of organizing new counties under the Provisional Government was voted down in the Mountain districts.

A demand for mail facilities with New Mexico was sensibly felt.

A desperate affray occured in Salt Lake between two bands of desperadoes; several were wounded.

Richmond, Jan. 18—9 P.M.

Mr. Menimengers was escorted to the Capitol by the military. The National and Virginia flags waved over the building. He spoke four hours to immense crowds. He described the steady inroads of the North upon the rights of the South, and the resulting progress of the Abolitionists. He drew a dreary picture of their present relations with the North, and showed that the guarantees of the Constitution were powerless to protect the South.

A Sad Misfortune.—On Friday morning, December 30, Noah D. Comstock, of Arcadia, Trempeleau county, Wis., left the pineries at Hall's creek, in Jackson county, Wis., some fifty miles distant from Arcadia; after traveling all day over regardless of roads, relying upon his knowledge of the country as a Surveyor for four years, had the misfortune in crossing a small creek or stream, just after dark, to break through the ice with the right foot, going into the water the entire length of the leg. After getting out and pursuing his course, taking for his guide the stars in firmament, and without even coming in sight of a person or habitation, as the country is new and uninhabited, until near midnight when he reached the first house in the settlement of his home, not having eaten or having seen anything to eat since early in the morning, previous to his undertaking this perilous, and to him unfortunate journey, walking some fifteen miles after getting into the creek, as above mentioned, when the mercury was standing some 25° below zero—and had all day long—as he was informed upon his arrival at Mrs. Arma Bishop's, at which place he remained and was taken care of by kind friends from the neighborhood, being a young man very generally esteemed by all, receiving the kindest and most unremitting care and attention for a week, when Dr. Arthur Chambers of our city was called to the case, which by this time had reached that stage that required amputation, which was done on Saturday, January 7th, 1860, just below the knee. The foot was so badly frozen that some four or five hours elapsed before the boot and stocking could be soaked in cold water and cut off. The father of this unfortunate man, we believe, lives in Lowville, Lewis Co., N. Y. His name is Adam Comstock, and this is his only living child.—Winona Dem., Jan. 16th.

The Chief Justiceship.

For the Sentinel.

Mr. Editor:—I have read with interest the communications that have appeared in your columns the past week, from various persons, in regard to the above subject. That there should be a difference of views among Republicans on this subject is to be expected, and it is well to have the subject thoroughly ventilated. I wish to intrude upon your columns with a few words upon the article in your issue of yesterday signed "Republican." You, Mr. Editor, vouch for its writer as "a prominent and working member" of our party, and it is with all respect for his opinion that I now write. "Republican" says that the German Republicans are most unanimously in favor of State Rights as construed by our Supreme Court, and that the German Republican press of this State have not taken decided ground on the subject, except one paper, which he asserts has taken decided ground against it.

Now, prominent as this "Republican" may be, I assert, and leave it to any one who is acquainted, to any extent, with the Germans and German papers of this State, that this prominent Republican is utterly unacquainted with the sentiments of the German Republicans, or their newspaper organs.

I doubt whether "Republican" can find a single German Republican, who is identified in our ranks, who does not endorse the State Rights doctrine to its full extent. As for the German Republican press, I call upon "Republican" to give the name of that German Republican newspaper that takes ground against it.

I call upon "Republican" to give the name of a single German Republican newspaper in this State which has not taken decided ground in favor of the position of our Supreme Court.

Let me tell "Republican" that the German Republicans are, to a man, with Carl Schurz, in his able and masterly argument for State Rights, delivered at Albany Hall during the last judicial canvass. That speech was printed in every German Republican newspaper in the State—its truth became the conviction and principle of the German Republican heart, and they will never waver in their defence of those principles.

But why does "Republican" desire to renew the agitation on this question. The question has already been argued and submitted to the people, and by ten thousand majority the people have decided it. True, some Republicans, prominent and previously hard-working Republicans, dissented from our position and took no interest in the last judicial canvass, and even voted for Wm. P. Lynde; but now that our party has so triumphantly carried that doctrine by the popular vote, are these few "prominent Republicans going to make us back down and take upon ourselves their spinal infirmities?

Although I think the discussion of State Right's doctrine among the Republicans of Wisconsin at this late day, is merely reviving issues among us that have long since put to rest. I will merely say that if a Republican Congress should ever pass a law taking away from Southern States the right of trial by jury, and the right of Habeas Corpus, I would stand by the decision of the Supreme Court of any Southern State which should resist the execution of such law, even if such law was sustained by a Republican United States Supreme Bench.

This position is our only hope in this land for protection from what may be an infernal despotism. The people of this State are satisfied on that point, as the ballot box has demonstrated, and if any clique in our party think that they are going to get us now to knuckle down when they tried in vain to get us to do so last spring, methinks they will find itself greatly mistaken.

A STIFF REPUBLICAN.

Terrible but Natural Fruits of Rum and Licentiousness—A Man Killed.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

St. Anthony, Minn., Jan. 14, '60.

About ten miles north of this city there is a small tavern—a whiskey hole—kept, or has been until last night, by a drinking rowdy, an Irishman. He has kept a woman—not his wife. Last evening two young men, somewhat notorious in our police court, came in from their camp, a few miles from the place, called Pleasure Creek, and commenced drinking. After drinking until a Dutchman, who had brought hay to sell, had left for home, the men went into the room where the woman had retired (this is as she testified before the Coroner's Jury this morning, whether true or not I do not assume to say) and made improper demonstrations, whereupon she called her quasi husband, who went into the room and requested them to leave. They refused till he said, "come out boys, (for he knew both of them very well,) I'll treat," then they started.

As the man (Mike Dorgan) started to go out to treat them, one of them, Sanford Tripp, knocked him down, and a fight commenced. The other man, Charles Dumphey, joined his companion and it was not long before they overpowered Mike and killed him. Mike screamed to his wife-woman that he "was almost gone." One of them in answer said, "we will soon finish you."—She caught up her child, ran around the house, and fled to a neighbor's, more than a mile distant, the mercury being some 10° below zero, and she barefooted and in her night clothes only, freezing her feet badly.—The body was found thrown off the steps upon its back, deep cuts in the hands and arms with a large knife, and numerous gashes upon the body; in the side of the head, near the top of the neck, back of the cranium, was a deep wound cut by a hatchet or small ax. It penetrated into the brain.

The man was an awful sight—shockingly mangled. Verdict of the jury in accordance with the above facts.

A warrant was issued and they gave themselves up to the sheriff of Anoka County here in this city to-day. Tripp and Dumphey came into the city last night about 11 or 12 o'clock and reported that they had been attacked by four men and robbed of their furs, and had a fight, and they believed they had killed one of the men. They had torn clothes, bruised faces and black eyes, but no severe wounds.

Here is the cause of the death of a man: bad men, bad whiskey and vile women—I put them in the order in which they are entitled to hold rank. But for the bad men there would be no bad whiskey (and all whiskey is bad) nor bad women.

SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY AT A FOCUS.

Can a Territorial Legislature by Unfriendly Legislation Abolish Slavery—The Experiment in Nebraska—Gov. Black Vetoes Unfriendly Legislation.

The Legislature of the Territory of Nebraska, by vote of 19 to 17 in the House, and 7 to 3 in the Council, passed the following bill:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Nebraska, That Slavery or involuntary servitude, except for the punishment of crime, be and the same is forever prohibited in this territory.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect and be in full force from and after the first day of July, A. D. 1860.

The vote on this bill was not partisan.—There were professed Democrats for and against it. The bill was passed, not so much to abolish slavery, as to test directly the power of the people of the territory to abolish the peculiar institution. Mr. Doane, a Democrat, in voting for the bill, gave his reasons for so doing, as follows:

"I have all along tried to keep this vexed question out of our halls of legislation, by voting and fighting against the subject in every form in which it has thrust its hydral head into our chamber. In doing this, have acted in good faith. But, sir, the President of the United States, in his late message, has seen fit to step, in my opinion, far out of his way, to throw this agitating question upon the country and upon the Democratic party; and if he can stand it to introduce this agitation, I can. He says the people of Territories have no right to legislate upon this subject. Sir, I believe this to be a political heresy, and however presumptuous it may appear in me to take issue with so distinguished a functionary, I wish my vote to go upon the record, before my country and before my party, in issue upon this question, raised by the President, and in aid of the passage of this bill."

There were Democrats who voted against the Bill because they did not wish the direct question raised, thinking the party would suffer if forced to meet it. We have from a correspondent at Omaha, the following communication:

Omaha, Jan. 11, 1860.

Eds. Com.:—Enclosed please find the Veto Message of Gov. Black, on the "Slavery Bill," which I sent you a few days since. It is rather an inconsistent document, when compared with his speech before the Harrisburg Democratic Convention in 1859, where he took strong "Popular Sovereignty" grounds.

There will be a strong effort made to-day, to carry it over his head, but it will not, I think, be done.

We give in full the Veto Message of Gov. Black, and earnestly commend it to the consideration of our readers, and particularly to those who are anxious to call themselves Democrats. Here it is:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Executive Chamber,
Omaha, January 9th, 1860.

To The Council:—

Mr. President—I am directed by the Governor to announce to your honorable body the following Message, and to return herewith a bill for "An Act to Prohibit Slavery." JOHN McCONIHE, Private Secretary.

To the Honorable, the Council of Nebraska Territory:—

I herewith return to you "An Act to Prohibit Slavery," unsigned and with my objections.

This Act, necessarily, involves the whole question of power or jurisdiction over the subject matter. If slavery exists here in law, or in fact, to prohibit, is to abolish it. If it does not exist, where is the need for legislation? But I do not stop to measure the relative value of mere words, which may be used, indifferently, and for the same object.

This bill, I suppose, is intended to interdict slavery, or involuntary servitude, within the Territory, and, I suppose, is likewise intended to raise the question, whether the Territorial Legislature can do it. At all events it does so.

For the purpose of considering the question, with distinctness, I will first examine it, as it may or may not be affected by the treaty with France. This Territory was part of Louisiana, and all agree that when we acquired Louisiana in 1803, it was slave territory, and slaves were property. The third article of the treaty by which Louisiana became acquired to the United States, is important at this point. It is a part of the treaty compact that "the inhabitants of the ceded territory shall be incorporated in the United States, and admitted as soon as possible, according to the provisions of the Federal Constitution, to the enjoyment of all the rights, privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States; and in the meantime, they shall be protected in the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion which they profess."

As I have had occasion to remark in another communication addressed to you, Nebraska, as a part of the Louisiana purchase, was acquired to become a State, and for no other purpose. For this purpose, and this alone, is there any power under the Constitution to acquire foreign territory. I do not enlarge upon this point, having already discussed it at length.

It is a stipulation in the treaty "that the inhabitants of the ceded Territory shall be incorporated in the Union of the United States," and is every whit as strong a stipulation that in the meantime they shall be protected in "the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and the religion which they profess." The faith of the country is pledged to it, and it is just as good to the inhabitants of Nebraska Territory to-day, or any other day, as it was to the first inhabitants in 1803. Mr. John Quincy Adams understood this perfectly, and disposed of the question very briefly and conclusively, when Arkansas was brought before Congress for admission, in 1836. "She is entitled to admission as a slave State, as Louisiana and Missouri have been admitted," by virtue of "that article in the treaty for the purchase of Louisiana, which secures to the people of the ceded Territories, all the rights, privileges and immunities of the original citizens of the United States, and stipulates for their admission, conformably to that principle, into the Union.

* * * * *

Arkansas, therefore, comes, and has a right to come, into the Union, with her slaves and her slave laws. It is written in the bond, and however I may lament that it was ever so written, I must faithfully perform its obligations." Now, what was written in the bond? Was it not that the people of the ceded Territories are to be secured in their rights of property, person and religion, as well as that they should be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States?

In the Dred Scott case, Mr. Justice Catron says, "Louisiana was a province, when slavery was not only lawful, but where property in slaves was the most valuable of all personal property. The Province was ceded as a unit, with an equal right pertaining to all its inhabitants in every part thereof, to own slaves. * * * To enable the United States to fulfill the Treaty, additional population was indispensible and obviously desired, with anxiety, on both sides, so that the whole country should, as soon as possible, become States of the Union. And for this contemplated future population, the treaty is expressly provided, as it is for the inhabitants residing in the Province. All these were to be protected, in the mean time," that is to say, at all times "between the date of the treaty, and the time when the portion of the Territory where the inhabitants resided was admitted into the Union as a State." "At the date of the treaty," he further remarks, "each inhabitant had the right to the free enjoyment of his property, alike with his liberty and his religion, in any part of Louisiana."

To surmount the treaty difficulty, was considered worth a labored effort by Mr. Justice Curtis, in the Dred Scott case. It occupies four full pages of his able, dissenting opinion. His effort was to show, that Congress might prohibit Slavery in the Territory of which Nebraska is a part. On the strength of Elom and Neilson, 2 Peters 314, and Garcia vs. Lee, 12 Peters 519, he argues that the stipulation in the treaty addresses itself to the political or legislative power, and is not a law for the government of the court. It is enough to say that these cases are cases of disputed boundaries between nations; and, of course, for the Political department of the Government, and not for the Judicial. "The Judiciary is not that department of the Government to which the assertion of its interests against foreign powers is confided." But under the third article, individual rights of person, property and religion are guaranteed, and may not be swept away by legislation.

It is also said that "the stipulation was temporary, and ceased to have any effect when the then inhabitants of the Territory of Louisiana, in whose behalf the stipulation was made, was incorporated into the Union." In other words, that the State of Louisiana, on her admission into the Union, swallowed up all the rights guaranteed by the treaty to the rest of the territory, including, of course, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota, while in a Territorial condition, and Nebraska now. This startling declaration is made on the strength of Chief Justice Marshall's opinion, in 9 Peters 223, to which Mr. Justice Curtis refers as follows "in the case of New Orleans vs. De Armas et. al., (9 Peters 223) the question was, whether a title to property which existed at the date of the treaty, continued to be protected by the treaty after the State of Louisiana was admitted into the Union. The third article of the treaty was relied on. Mr. Chief Justice Marshall said: "This article obviously contemplates two objects. One, that Louisiana shall be admitted into the Union as soon as possible, on an equal footing with the other States; and the other, that, till such admission, the inhabitants of the ceded Territory shall be protected in the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion. Had any one of these rights been violated while these stipulations continued in force, the individual supposing himself to be injured, might have brought his case into this court, under the 25th section of the judicial act. But this stipulation ceased to operate when Louisiana became a member of the Union, and its inhabitants were admitted to the enjoyment of all the rights, advantages and immunities of the citizens of the United States.'"

And yet, what does this opinion all amount to, except that so far as the State of Louisiana itself was concerned, the stipulation ceased to operate, because that State had passed beyond "the mean time" mentioned in the third article of the treaty, and its inhabitants were admitted to the "full enjoyment of all the rights, advantages and immunities of the people of the United States."

It is then a fair and irresistible conclusion, that the third article of the treaty did include the whole of the Louisiana purchase; and it is an undeniable truth, that the citizens of the several States might go into any of the Territories carved out of the acquisition, and carry with them their property. "The whole territory," says the Supreme Court of the United States, "was acquired by the General Government, as the representative and trustee of the people of the United States; and it must therefore be held in that character, for their common and equal benefit; for it was the people of the several States, acting through their agent and representative, the Federal Government, who, in fact, acquired the territory in question, and the Government holds it for their common use until it shall be associated with the other States, as a member of the Union." And this is in perfect harmony with our whole system.

The Federal Government is a government of States, and not of individuals or masses. People make up the States, and States make the Confederacy. Though the General Government acts on individuals, within and without the States, it is only in the exercise of powers, delegated by the States, and conferred in the Constitution.

In the first American Congress of 1774, colonies came together, through their representatives, and by a union of colonies; the wrongs of Massachusetts Bay were made the wrongs of Pennsylvania and Virginia. The revolution was not a social revolution—it was political. It was a revolution of colonies by name. The Congress of 1776 was a Congress of colonies, and the Declaration was alive with one great truth, "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States." They made good their Declaration, and became, not only free, but sovereign—each one sovereign and independent within itself. The articles of confederation were entered into by States; the Constitution was formed by a convention of States, each State adopting the Constitution for itself, thus making it, as far as applicable, "a law unto itself."

All territory is acquired to become a State, but it is likewise acquired for the common benefit of the existing States. It is theirs, and the Federal Government holds it as their trustee. Consequently every citizen of every State has a share in it. It is his in the first instance because he is a citizen of some one of the United States, and he has a right to enter into the territory, clothed with his rights as a citizen of the State. He takes his property with him, from his own State, and if he may not do so, then the territory is not acquired for the common and equal benefit of the several States.

Does the Constitution of the United States then carry slavery into the Territories? No; but under the Constitution, and by virtue of it, the Federal Government acquires territory, for the common and equal benefit of the several States—slave-holding and non-slaveholding alike. Being acquired, all may go into it, with their property, of whatever kind, and if they may not, there is no equality. That the Constitution recognizes slaves as property is settled beyond a doubt. And though it carries slavery nowhere, it sometimes follows it. A slave held by the laws of Kentucky escapes into Ohio; under the Constitution he is still as much property as he was before. The law of Kentucky does not follow him, nor can it hold him within the State where slavery is prohibited; but the Constitution can and does. So there is no escape from the fact, that outside of State limits, the Constitution does assert the right of the master to the slave as property, and it recognizes the relation existing between them, as lawful. It is a special provision, I admit, but it must be borne in mind that it is not the special provision which makes him property. It recognizes the right of property as already existing.

When this Territory was first organized, had the citizens of all the States the right to come into it, with their families and their flocks? Had the citizens of Missouri the same right to enter into the enjoyment of their common estate, as the citizens of Iowa, and had both the right to bring with them any property which they saw fit? If they might not, by what law were they restrained or forbidden? Surely not by the treaty, for it is sealed to the protection of property, persons and religion alike. With it, these three are equally sacred. Not by the prohibition of 1820, called, in awful mockery, the Missouri Compromise, for that was repealed, and is now pronounced unconstitutional and void. I assume then, that the citizens of the States owning slaves had the right to come here with their property when the Territorial Government was organized. Some few persons did come with their slaves, and still fewer remained; for the overruling reason that Nebraska is no place for slave labor. Were the slaves of those few set free, by the fact of their having been brought into this Territory? Some were enticed or stolen away, but no process of law was ever invoked, or could have been invoked, to have them pronounced free.

This brings us to the question of power in the Territorial Legislature. Have we the power to manage our domestic affairs in our own way, and exercise the rights of legislation as a free people? I answer we have, beyond peradventure or doubt. But communities, like individuals, have relative duties as well as absolute and relative rights; we must use our own rights so that we do not injure or take away the rights of others. This is good morals and good law. The doctrine of the rights of the States lies at the very foundation of our political fabric. To legislate against the rights of any one State, is to strike a mortal blow at the rights of all.

In this attempt to prohibit slavery by an act of the Territorial Assembly, I am constrained to say you have overlooked the true intent and meaning of the organic law.

It should be remembered that the restrictive line against slavery, known as 36 degrees 30 minutes, was designed not only to control the Territories north of the line, but to exclude slavery forever from all the States to be formed between that line and the 49th degree; thus making the act of Congress to operate on States as well as Territories. I say this was the design in the act of 1820 and Mr. Clayton proved it in the Senate. Indeed, the great object was "to have no more slave States."

At the organization of Kansas and Nebraska, the Missouri restriction was blotted out, and declared inoperative and void, "it being the true intent and meaning of this act not to legislate Slavery into any Territory or State, nor to exclude it therefrom; but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States." This was the triumph of Popular Sovereignty over Congressional restriction; The right of the people to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States. Surely you cannot think that this meant the Territorial Legislature created in the same law and by the same Congress. Is that Popular Sovereignty? Let us look. "And be it further enacted, that the Legislative power and authority of said Territority shall be vested in the Governor and Legislative Assembly."—And the Governor, or Executive, has a voice equal to more than a majority of each House. I need hardly say he is appointed by the President, and may never be seen of "the People" before his appointment. However agreeable it might be to you and me to suppose that we are "the People" in the sense of the organic act, I fear that we must surrender the soft delusion. It is true you are elected by the people; but they did not form the system under which you are elected. Congress and the people did all that; nay more, they shaped the system in all its details, even to the number of each House, and the very days the Legislature may consume in each session.

I intend the utmost respect, but I must say "the people," mentioned in the 14th section of the organic act, never did mean and never was intended to mean "the Territorial Assembly."

It was the people of the Territory, in their original and sovereign capacity, and they only, which could have been intended. "The sovereignty of a State," says Judge McLean, "does not reside in the persons who fill the different Departments of its Government; but in the people from whom the Government emanated, and who may change it at their discretion." This is true. When the people of this Territory meet in Convention to frame a Constitution for a State, they will then, for the first time, form their domestic institutions. This is creative power, and implies permanency. They will like form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States. Speaking of your powers, which are temporary, because the Territorial Government itself is but temporary, the organic act says, they "shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation, consistent with the Constitution of the United States, and the provisions of this act."

But not so when "the people" are referred to. They are subject "only to the Constitution of the United States. In creating their own Constitution, and thus preparing to form and regulate their domestic institutions, in their own way, (not the way prescribed by Congress for the mere Territorial Government,) they are not subject to the "provisions of this act," but "only to the Constitution of the United States."

And in thus forming their own institutions, in their own way, and entering the Union, with or without slavery, as they themselves may determine, the people vindicate the great doctrines of State Sovereignty and Popular Sovereignty together, and illustrate the harmonious workings of a perfect and complete system. SAM'L W. BLACK.

*This estimate of population is based on the vote cast for Governor, on the 8th of November last—ratio of one vote to seven inhabitants, for which estimate we are indebted to G. C. Russell, Esq., of the Secretary of State's office.

A successful case of transfusion of blood into the veins of a woman, was performed lately in Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland.—The woman, although in the prime of life, had become so weak from the loss of blood that pulsation was at times imperceptible. The blood of a friend was injected into a vein in one of her arms, and the most cheerful results were immediately manifested. She continued to improve rapidly, and at last accounts was considered beyond the reach of danger.

A ship recently sailed from San Francisco for Hong Kong with a cargo, consisting of the dead bodies of some hundreds of Chinamen, bound for the tomb of their ancestors. The perfume was almost as delightful as that from the rats their comrades eat.—This kind of trade still thrives in the Pacific. Ships take live Chinamen and dead rats to California, and carry back to Asia dead Chinamen and live rats.

German literature has sustained a loss by the death of William Grimm, the younger of the celebrated brothers. He was in his seventy-fourth year.

The celebrated Charles Heidsick has arrived at New York. He wears a bottle green coat with blue labels, and glasses upon a bottle nose. He is said to be sparkling in conversation, when drawn out, but sours if neglected.

Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia!!!
What is it? How Cured?

DYSPEPSIA IS OUR NATIONAL DIsease—weak stomach, feeble digestion, distress after eating, costive habits, bilious condition. How many suffer with it and its attendant symptoms of low spirits, bad taste, coated tongue, obstupified head, and attacks of the headache! Yet how few know how to cure it! Generally, because the bowels are constipated, resort is had to cathartics, or laxatives. But such a condition was never cured by cathartics, whose only office is to weaken the digestion and impair the integrity of the entire assimilative system.

But HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC DYSPEPSIA PILLS—a simple medicated sugar pill—have cured hundreds of the worst and most obstinate cases.—This is done simply by improving the tone and restoring the integrity of the digestive organs, from which result good appetite, regular habits, a clear head, and buoyant spirits. Such a medicine is a gem, and only requires to be known to be appreciated.

Price 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PARKER, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Office No. 13 Cedar street, New York.

Sold in Milwaukee by John Rice. ja15i19dw&ewly

THE PUBLIC BLESSING WHICH IS now so universally admitted to exist in Moffat's Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, is every day demonstrated by their astonishing efficacy in the cases which they are announced to cure. All the complaints of the stomach and bowels, weakness of the digestive organs and of the system generally, bilious and liver affections, night fevers, head aches, piles costiveness, consumption, rheumatism, scurvy, impurity of the blood, or blotched and sallow complexions, soon yield to their curative properties. A single trial invariably secures them the title of the best family medicine now before the public. For sale by the proprietor, W. B. MOFFAT, at his office, 335 Broadway, and by Store Keepers and Druggists generally. oct15d&2dtw&wly

THE DREAM.

BY HENRY T. TUCKERMAN.

The shade of an oak in the twilight was creeping
Along the smooth turf as a green esplanade,
The wren in the folds of the woodbine was sleeping,
And the gleam of the fountain was lost in the shade—
When a gentle voice called me to haste to the dwelling;
Its accent was music, its welcome divine,
And my heart with a heavenly rapture was swelling,
As I entered the cottage and felt it was mine!

The rays of a lamp, through a pearly vase gleaming,
Fell clearly and soft through a beautiful room,
Where the smile of a Virgin, by Raphael was beaming,
And the flowers around it exhaled their perfume;
A statue methought was a sweet cherub bound
To this scene of repose, his sky-mansion forgot;
Works of sages and minstrels lay scattered around,
And the spirit of peace seemed to brood o'er the spot.

At the harp sat a maiden whose eye, by love lighted,
Shone tenderly forth from her forehead of snow,
Her white arm raised, like a spirit benighted,
Amid the dark tresses that clustered below;
Like garlands of hope by a young goddess flung,
To my soul seemed the flow of her melody's stream;
Of affection unchangingshe fervently sung,
Till, sighing, I woke, but to find it a dream.

[Written expressly for the Daily Sentinel.]

TWENTY STEPS TO ONE WOMAN'S HEART.

"Do you propose to sell out your stock here?"

"To tell the truth, I did come to that conclusion some time since. I convinced myself that it would be a rare chance for some young man, but as yet, I have utterly failed to pursuade any one else of the truth of my thoughts, and I was thinking seriously this morning of hiring an auctioneer, writing a letter to my god-mother, and then starting back to Smyrna with the next vessel. But Lem, I find while I have been here receiving the showers of a very summery existence, I have taken roots, bless you, and its not so easy to be transplanted and live. No, I must stay in the country now."

"I don't understand you Chartsey," I said.

He then rose from the chair, laid his pipe on the center table, stretched his long figure a moment and walked to the wall, lifted down a daguerreotype from the long ranks of specimens, and handing it to me, threw himself back into the seat.

"Lem, you know who that is?"

"Know it, of course! It's my cousin Mary!"

"Now walk round the room and glance at the rest," he said.

I did as he desired; walking leisurely up to the wall, I cast my eyes over the pictures and recognized two or three copies of the one I had in my hand. I turned to express my surprise, and Chartsey with a waive of his hand motioned for me to pursue the survey farther; so I continued on around the room, and in every cluster of pictures, most conspicuously placed, was that of my cousin Mary. As I returned with a puzzled expression of face, to my friend's chair, he said:

"The conclusion is inevitable—no occasion whatever for dissembling—I love your cousin Mary! Don't make it dramatical by starting—and what is more, notwithstanding my worthless character, foggy prospects and abominable habits, she loves me! I have duplicated her form and features until, when I write, I am conscious of her eyes looking at me from every part of the room. If the subject would admit of a pun I should say that everything else of importance had been effaced from my thoughts for the last week."

As Chartsey made this astounding revelation to me, I recollected Mary's manner in the morning when questioning me, and however disagreeable the thought, I came to the conclusion that Chartsey had been speaking the truth.

"I know what you are thinking of," he said, as I stood holding the picture in my hand, "Blood, caste, mammon; under such guises as respectability and prosperity.—Scout them at once, Lem, and as you know my heart to be right, trust me that my hands and head will work out its dictates."

"Chartsey," I said, "I am destined to no end of surprises. I have been opening my eyes every day of my convalescence on something new and strange."

"Now and strange! Nonsense. Old as Venus, and common as good looking women. But let us drop the matter for the present. When you recover from your surprise I shall expect, if not your co-operation, at least your opinion."

"That you shall have now, if desired," I answered; "but the fact is I came here to give you a surprise and get somewhat overwhelmed myself."

"I want you to complete your Elysian pictures of the Hermitage," Chartsey said, applying a fresh match to his pipe, "for there is no denying to you that a regular Irish fairy, dropping, according to the approved Celtic fashion, out of an undulating spot in the ceiling, could not add a tint to your painting, when you were in the humor!"

"But I'm not in the humor. You know all the beauties of Lazylake as well as myself."

"Know it? to be sure I do, having shot rabbits there in the fall and fell in love in the summer, read Byron and "Betty" at the same time among the dead leaves, remembering the one and forgetting the other. But bear in mind, my dear fellow, that while Nature wears a continual smile in those regions, she has only a Blanche for one of us. Betty faded out long ago, I expect, into a thing of pots and kettles, and no more danaids haunt the stream to receive the mock allegiance of a made up pair."

"You're off the scent entirely, my dear fellow," I exclaimed; "I solemnly vow that nothing more tender than my health has lured me on. The beautiful ignis fatuus is all in your eye."

"Has affliction in the body, then, clothed your heart in sackcloth and left only the ashes of a former flame? or did I dream of the gay times at Rollingwood's last Fall and the suspicious farce a la romanza at Lazylake? What ever put it in my head that you took to Newport so suddenly when SHE did, and transferred yourself to Saratogo so mysteriously for the same reason, when I spread all the allurements of my captivating companionship to keep you on the sea shore in vain. It was a huge ignis fatuus, Lem, and haunted many a brave fellow at the 'Barge' and the Club Room. Ha! your cheeks cry Peccavi!"

"Chartsey, you are incorrigible, and no more fit to entertain a sensible man than a sixpenny showman. I don't deny the soft impeachment; but, for Heaven's sake, believe me when I tell you I have no love scheme at Lazylake."

"I do believe you, my dear fellow, if you say so. I know all you want is, that the world will stand out of your sunshine; and I may say, if I wasn't the senseless Chartsey, I would be the latest Diogues and live in a tub at Lazylake.

"But presto! You want posting. I have the queerest of news to tell you, so listen to the showman. Little Miss Snig, she of the sunset tresses, the snubbed, and laughed at, has come out as an heiress, and forthwith all the good points of her disposition and body have suddenly been recognized. Instead of taking the back seat in the synagogue she wields her golden prayer book over a patrician slip at the chancel, takes a stage box at Academy, sports iron greys and footman in gilt moulding, turns the upper end of town upside down by the "regular stunners" every night, at which music and supper form the great attraction, and at which Miss Snig delights to snub all the unfortunates who happen to have left the discovery of her charms to this late day. This all appears to be the grandest joke imaginable among a set of jolly fellows who call eating her suppers and drinking her wine—patronizing her; and young Todd, who, by the way, should have another o to his name, last week buttonholed me at the Assembly rooms and let out a big secret. There was going to be a "sweet-scented tableaux at Dolly Snig's's; it was all cooked up. Jeremy Tender and Sweete Hearte and Lord Smith and Baly Jumper were all to be there and I mustn't miss the sport, a 'stunning' denouement was coming off that would eclipse Brougham and cast Francoise Ravel in the shade of his own plagiarisms forever; and I consented to be there, provided I received the credentials, a promise which Todd said would be safe if left with him; and we parted. The next day came the 'invite' done up according to the last kink of fashion, and that night, after polishing and making up, I went up to the 'Chrystal,' where Todd said they were to start from, and found the party in one of the parlors effervescing delightfully with the promise of an 'out-an-outer,' as Tender called it.

Sands' Pale Cream Ale.

HAVING RECENTLY PURCHASED the Spring Brewery, on Eighth and Chestnut streets, with the view of making the above mentioned beverage in Milwaukee, I would respectfully solicit the patronage of the people and those Saloons and Restaurants that desire to keep a prime Ale on draught for their patrons.

To those who are familiar with Sands' Chicago Pale Cream Ale, I need say nothing as to its quality; to those who are not, I would simply ask a trial, and I pledge myself to my patrons to do all in my power to make Sands' Pale Cream Ale as popular a beverage in Milwaukee and vicinity as it is in Chicago and surrounding country, and I trust by the assistance of lovers of Good Ale, to give Sands' Milwaukee Pale Cream and Amber Ale a reputation second to none in the West.

Saloons and Families in city or country supplied by the barrel, half-barrel or case, or in bottles. Also Porter bottled or in cases of any size. Orders by mail or otherwise promptly attended to. Price List sent by mail on application.

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

BININGER'S
OLD LONDON DOCK
GIN
A. M. BININGER & CO.,
(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, (Tonic and Diuretic) which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.

A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

Put up in Quart Bottles, in Cases of one and two dozen each, and sold throughout the world by Druggists, Grocers, &c.

The Great Secret at Last Discovered!!

JUNIUS JUDSON,

PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF

JUDSON'S PATENT

GOVERNOR VALVES,

FOR REGULATING THE

MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Buildings, near R. R. Depot.

Shop Rights for sale.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1851. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 5th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really indentical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all altered improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements;—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

THROUGH A TRIAL OF many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat.—The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is knawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains.—Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four-fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards, might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the Headache, Heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because the stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your Stomach and Bowels need strengthening into healthy action.—Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quickly as they are taken.—They are the one great medical wonder of the age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a cough, and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by JAMES C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by JOHN RICE, Milwaukee, J. H. REED & CO., Chicago, and all Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Medical.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR

FROM

THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

it extends to the stomach, ensuing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you any injury. Yours truly,

DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,

(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act, as a preservative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small-pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D., Lynville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moses, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Root, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence, and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. * * * Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the 'old treatment.' I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,

IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

THE GREAT WONDER

Of the Nineteenth Century,

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle: the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.
